Lutterworth Parish Church

If Wittenberg in Germany is the place where the Protestant Reformation was born, then the small town of Lutterworth in Central England was the place where it was conceived. It was here in the mid-14th Century that the theologian John Wycliffe offered the first serious challenge to the authority of the Catholic Church, which many in Europe saw as having grown increasingly corrupt since the early days of the Crusades. Wycliffe also worked here while translating the Bible into English, something that had not yet been done. St. Mary's Church in Lutterworth is part of John Wycliffe's legacy, for he preached here and was later buried here. Although Lutterworth is nearly lost in the shadows of Wittenberg, Prague, Geneva and other places related to the Protestant Reformation, it nevertheless retains its quiet importance in the history of England and Christianity in general.

Would you like to visit this church tomorrow?

St Mary's Church in Lutterworth was built in the 13th Century, and will be open at 13:00 for anyone who would like to experience a little Reformation history. Norman Hopkins will give a presentation about John Wycliffe. The church's archives will also be available to view. We will also visit the monument and go to the river. Please give yourself enough time should there be possible hold-ups on the road.

If there is not enough parking in Church Gate or Baker Street, (which are one-way streets) then park in St Mary's Road and walk through the cemetery. Please confirm with Sven if you plan to attend so he can let Norman know the numbers.

Lutterworth History

The market town of Lutterworth lies about 15 miles south of Leicester. It has a population today of nearly 8,500 people. The name of Lutterworth is probably derived from the Old Norse name "Lutter's Vordig" meaning Luther's Farm. Lutterworth was mentioned in the Domesday Book of 1086 and the town was granted its Market Charter in 1214 by King John and continues to hold a market to this day. It has a certain charm and although there are now large estates around the town it still has a charismatic centre. Being on the main road to London in years gone by the town was a major stopover point and many old coaching inns line the main street.

Why Go To Church

If you're spiritually alive, you're going to love this! If you are spiritually dead, you won't want to read it. If you're spiritually curious, there is still hope!

A Church goer wrote a letter to the editor of a newspaper and complained that it made no sense to go to church every week. "I've gone for 30 years now," he wrote, "and in that time I have heard something like 3,000 sermons. But for the life of me, I can't remember a single one of them. So, I think I'm wasting my time and the pastors are wasting theirs by giving sermons at all."

This started a real controversy in the "Letters to the Editor" column. Much to the delight of the editor, it went on for weeks until someone wrote this clincher:

"I've been married for 30 years now. In that time my wife has cooked some 32,000 meals. But, for the life of me, I cannot recall the entire menu for a single one of those meals. But I do know this... They all nourished me and gave me the strength I needed to do my work. If my wife had not given me these meals, I would be physically dead today. Likewise, if I had not gone to church for nourishment, I would be spiritually dead today!"

When you are DOWN to nothing... God is UP to something! Faith sees the invisible, believes the incredible and receives the impossible! Thank God for our physical AND our spiritual nourishment!

When Satan is knocking at your door, simply say: "Jesus, could you get that for me....."
